Executive Director,
Lindsey Carter*

Dear Reader,

I am pleased to have become the new Executive Director of Homespace after being with the agency in a variety of roles throughout the last 15 years.

We have a lot of really amazing initiatives we are working on, from expanding our programs, to celebrating our agency's 30th anniversary this month at The Buffalo History Museum! Many of you are joining us at this event - thank you for your support!

My favorite part of working with Homespace over the past 15 years is knowing how impactful the work that we do here is. Our work and our staff are literally changing lives...that really makes you want to come in to work every day. As we move forward this quarter and beyond, there is so much to look forward to, expanding our programs and services like I mentioned, and even the possibility of building a new site in the coming years. Our future is bright, and I am honored to be leading this agency of hardworking and talented individuals. The passion of our staff and resiliency of our youth will lead us for many more years to come.

Our mission would not be possible without support from readers like you. I hope you will continue to follow and support Homespace in the community.

Kind Regards,
Lindsey Carter

HOMESPACE CARES

JANUARY

CHELSEA

"Chelsea did a wonderful job of throwing the holiday party. We all had a great time and this is something we look forward to every year, knowing that she always throws such nice parties. She also helps everyone at Homespace, no matter what department they might be in."

FEBRUARY

VON

"He is always keeping the youth on their toes. He is very transparent with the youth ; and is there to redirect and make sure all youth are held accountable."

MARCH

ADIJA

"Adija recently was on maternity leave for having a beautiful baby, but since returning has jumped right back into her work here at Homespace. She instantly reconnected with her youth that were excited to meet with her. The youth's readiness to meet with her really highlights how she is approachable, non-judgmental, and accountable. She is a real asset to Homespace and her return highlights how much we missed her!"
