Dear Reader,

Welcome to the third quarter of the year, thank for you continuing to offer Homespace your support. As I reflect back on these past few months, I am overjoyed by our incredible 30th Anniversary celebration at the Buffalo History Museum, it was a HUGE hit! Thank you to all who were able to join us for a night of celebration. A special thank you to all of our sponsors, our Development Committee, our Board of Directors, Stephanie Codd our Development Coordinator, our staff who volunteered to help out that night, and all our continued supporters. The money raised from the event will go directly to support our programs and the youth we serve.

Additionally, I'd like to highlight the hard work and dedication our youth have put in to complete their school year. We have five youth graduating high school this year, with two planning to attend college in the fall. Supporting our youth through their educational goals is something Homespace strives for each and every school year. As this newsletter goes to press, we are currently celebrating their graduation with a well-deserved party.

While we continue to work on our strategic planning and DEI initiatives, we are also in turn making continued improvements to our programs and the services we provide to our youth. We are focusing heavily on safety and security for all staff and clients, and in doing so have implemented many measures to ensure the safety of all. As we move forward through the summer, our agency will begin to evaluate our community's biggest programming gaps to determine what program expansions to move forward with. With having purchased two plots of land that sit adjacent to our current site, there is so much opportunity to expand on the great work we do each and every day. I look forward to what the future holds, not only for our agency, but for the youth in our community.

The History of Homespace

April 13th, 2024

Our 30th anniversary celebration was awesome!

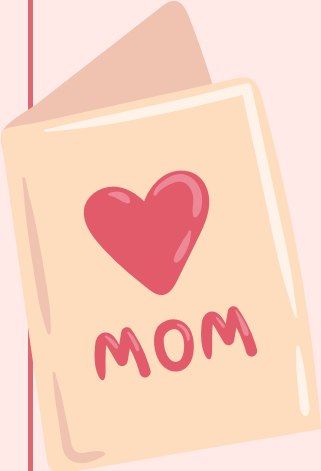

We almost doubled our fundraising goal, and had a great time doing it! Thank you to our sponsors, guests, speakers, staff, board, and volunteers for a wonderful evening in April! See you at our 35th!
